Vector engineers will professionally fit unit(s). All savings can be seen and verified by the separate meter(s) supplied with each system. This will be the means of demonstrating the % savings that can be expected annually, taking account of seasonal variations.

After the trial period ofdays we will return and take the readings from the meters. Subject to savings made, we will arrange to invoice for payment.

If the Vector system does not show any savings, the unit(s) will be removed at our expense.
